Hammons Appeals To Council For Stadium Backing

Asks Community to Put Up $2,500 on WPA Project

$20,000 STRUCTURE

Says Federal Government Would Provide $17,000 for Stadium

Coch Foy Hammons appeared before the city council Tuesday night and appealed for community funds for construction of a $20,000 concrete stadium for Hope High School, the greater part to be provided by the federal government through a WPA project.

Coch Hammons told the council that the proposed project had been approved by Washington officials, the State WPA office and the district office at Hope.

He said that the federal government would put up $17,000 and that the community's share would be $2,500.

The council did not take action on the proposal except to refer it to the Board of Public Affairs for consideration and recommendation.

The Board of Public Affairs is composed of Lloyd Spencer, Roy Anderson and Mayor Albert Graves. The board controls all appropriation expenditures of more than $500.

The board is expected to make its report at the next meeting of the council.

Although no vote was taken, the proposal seemed to meet with approval among the council members.

Hammons' Talk

Mr. Hammons said in part:

"This stadium is a duplication of the new football stadium at Henderson State Teachers College at Arkadelphia. It will be completed early in September."

"Such a stadium for Hope would mean a permanent piece of property. It would add to the beautification of the school. It would be a fine show place for all kinds of outdoor entertainment. It's something that the city needs."

"It would replace the present wood stadium which has a seating capacity of little more than 2,000, and would provide plenty of room for 4,000 persons."

This proposed concrete structure would be 14 tiers high, with two rows of box seats on either side of the field, two dressing rooms with showers and a nine-foot tile fence around the field.

"The present stadium is badly in need of repairs. It will take approximately $500 to put our present stadium in good condition."

"This project means too much for the school and city to be turned down when it can be obtained for us at $2,500," the coach declared.

The council concluded its session with disposition of routine matters.

80 Arkansas Felons to Get Bonus Bonds

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Eighty Arkansas felons will receive approximately $50,000 from payment by the government of the soldiers' bonus.

Felons Superintendent Tom Coghill announced Tuesday that 20 white and 60 negro prisoners at Tucker and Cummins farms will benefit from the payment.

The postmaster at Gould, near the prison farm, has instructions to deliver the bonds to veterans held in the Arkansas prison.

Coghill said a majority of the veterans requested that their bonus bonds be deposited in the prison treasury or that a substantial part of the proceeds be sent to their families. Most of the veterans are serving short sentences.

Turned Brown By Brown Turner

DALLAS, Texas.—(Special)—Been Centennializing a bit here. Great show, all right, and they got some art that ought to have pants or skirts on. But maybe I'm old fashioned.

Hard as cash is to get, Haile Selassie, recently de-emphasized by Mussolini, turned down a wad of it in refusing to show up here. Saw a husky man with a girl about 16 hands high enter a drinkery on the midway. He ordered beer while she took a milder drink, which proves they're married, and to each other.

Clark Is Candidate for Representative

Hugh D. Clark Seeks Legislative Post in August Primary

Hugh D. Clark made his formal announcement Wednesday in The Star's political column as a candidate for Representative of Hempstead county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election August 11.

Mr. Clark moved to Hempstead county in 1919 following his discharge from the army.

He served as county superintendent of Hempstead county schools for two years and was elected to the legislature in 1925. Later he was a candidate for the state senate and was defeated by four votes.

Mr. Clark resides on a farm two miles southeast of Hope.

He said that he would make an active campaign for the office he seeks and will discuss frankly the issues most important to the citizens of Hempstead county.

G.O.P. Farm Plank Attacked by Davis

Says If Proposals Enacted They Would Throttle U. S. Trade

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—Chester Davis, retiring farm administrator, Wednesday attacked two proposals in the farm plank of the Republican platform.

If these two proposals were enacted they would "throttle international trade between the United States and the rest of the world," he declared.

Foils Woman's 'Air Suicide'

Gripping the hair of a mysterious young woman as she fought furiously, intent on suicide, Pilot Charles W. Sutherland manipulated his dipping, plunging plane to a successful landing in East Boston (Mass.) airport, and saved his passenger.

The veteran aviator seized the woman when, at 1500 feet altitude, he saw her prepare to leap.

Florida Senator Dies Suddenly at Washington Home

Senator Duncan H. Fletcher, 77, Drops Dead at His Home

SECOND IN 2 MONTHS

Was Member of Important Banking and Currency Committee

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Duncan H. Fletcher, Democrat of Florida, died suddenly at his home here Wednesday. He was 77.

Senator Fletcher had served in the senate since March 4, 1909.

His office in the capital building announced that the senator had dropped dead at his home.

He was a member of an important banking and currency committee. His term would have expired in 1939.

His death was Florida's second loss in the senate within a little more than two months. Senator Park Trammell died May 8.

Doctor Attacks Fad Operations

Points Out the Evils That Have Crept Into the Profession

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Criminal operations and the "fad" of removing tonsils were termed "some of the evils that have crept into the medical profession" here Tuesday by Dr. H. F. Long, Statesville, N. C., before the associations of surgeons of the Southern Railway system, of which he is president.

Approximately 190 surgeons are attending the convention from 20 states through which the Southern Railway and its allied lines pass.

Dr. Long advised unmarried mothers to "go bear your child; cherish it, and sin no more," and married women to remember that "the healthiest women, both mentally and physically, are those who have borne large families."

He urged that tonsils be not removed until they have worn themselves out performing their service as a barrier to keep germs out of the system.

Henry B. Walthall Dies in Hollywood

58-Year-Old Screen Player Has Been in Sanatorium Three Weeks

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Henry B. Walthall, the little colonel in the silent screen classic "Birth of a Nation," died in a sanatorium here Wednesday. He was 58.

The gray-haired actor, native of Shelby City, Ala., entered the Pasture sanatorium at nearby Monrovia three weeks ago for a chronic ailment.

He collapsed several days ago after completing his role as an airplane engineer in the film "China Clipper" which has not been released.

Walthall then was advised to enter the hospital.

Prison Guard Is Killed in 'Break'

5 of 8 Convicts Wounded in Attempted Prison Escape

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—Two state penitentiary guards were shot, one fatally, and five convicts were wounded Tuesday night by C. H. Smith, a guard, who prevented the escape of eight long-term desperate criminals.

Powhatan D. Bass, 54, of Richmond, a guard, was shot in the head and body and killed instantly.

Details of the break were told by Major Rice M. Youell, superintendent. The eight fleeing prisoners and their three hostages were in an enclosed prison truck that was being driven rapidly toward the prison's west gate.

Guard Smith, stationed on the wall, saw a convict at the wheel and called to him to stop.

The machine continued on its way and Smith opened fire with a shot gun. This took little effect so the guard brought a machine gun into play, riddling the back of the truck with bullets. The machine stopped at the gate of the penitentiary.

None of the convicts got outside the walls, Major Youell said. He praised the action of Guard Smith in halting the delivery.

Lumber Plant at El Dorado Burns

$25,000 Loss Is Reported When Fire Sweeps Bass-Ellis Co.

EL DORADO, Ark.—(AP)—Fire swept through the Bass-Ellis Lumber company Tuesday and caused damage estimated at $25,000.

The blaze originated in the planing mill, spreading to the sawmill and storage sheds. A spark from a smokestack was believed the cause.

A truck from the El Dorado fire department answered the call and saved several surrounding buildings and sheds from flames whipped by a brisk north wind.

The cod lays an average of 5,000,000 eggs during its spawning season.

Negro Reported Slain, Is Found, Governor Advised

Frank Weems, Central Figure in Sharecropper Trouble, Is Located

IS NEWS TO HIM

To Investigate Flogging of White Woman and Preacher

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Referring to the funeral announced Tuesday by the Southern Tenant Farmers Union for Frank Weems, negro, reported slain in Eastern Arkansas, Governor Futrell said Wednesday "that was a mock funeral" deliberately planned by H. L. Mitchell (union secretary) and confederates as propaganda.

Negro Is Found

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Governor Futrell said Wednesday that Sheriff Howard Curdin of Crittenden county had advised him that he had found Frank Weems, 40-year-old negro sharecropper.

Weems was reported by the Southern Tenant Farmers Union officials to have died last week as the result of a beating at the hands of a band of men who broke up a union meeting here.

The governor said that the sheriff had advised him that Weems was alive and that neither he nor his wife knew anything about reports that the negro had been fatally beaten.

To Probe Charges

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—A "wide open" investigation that a young Memphis woman and a Little Rock, Ark., minister, were flogged by a band of six men in East Arkansas sharecropper zone was promised by Sheriff Howard Curdin of Crittenden county provided the victims "make a formal complaint to this office."

Sheriff Curdin declared that in the absence of definite information, "he had no way of knowing" whether this is bogus or not.

The sheriff said he would "guarantee protection" for Miss Willie Sue Blagden, 29, of Memphis, and the Rev. Claude C. Williams of Little Rock, should they report to his office, or that of Elton Reeves, deputy prosecuting attorney, at Marion, to make their complaints.

Miss Blagden, exhibiting severe bruises, told newsmen at Memphis she and Williams were beaten early Monday night with a leather harness strap in a field near Earle, Ark., where she said they went to investigate the rumored "slaying" of a negro sharecropper.

No Funeral

Sheriff Curdin said that he spent Tuesday in Earle to see whether the Southern Tenant Farmers Union, sponsors of a cotton choppers' strike, would go through with their announced plans to hold a funeral for Frank Weems, 40, negro strike member, whom the union claims was fatally beaten last week.

Curdin said he saw no funeral. He said he had no information indicating that Weems was dead. The union claims it has found no trace of the negro.

It was for the purpose of holding a funeral for Weems, if found, that Williams said he made his trip to East Arkansas.

Both Miss Blagden and Williams expressed a willingness to return to Crittenden county to identify their alleged assailants, but H. L. Mitchell, secretary of the union, said that since "they were threatened with death if they returned," he would lay the matter before the union's several attorneys at a general legal "defense" conference here Friday.

Another Beating Reported

Markville, Roy Morelock, 35, of Parkin, Ark., sharecropper, who had served as a "runner" between union headquarters in Memphis and the East Arkansas strike zone, returned to Memphis with charges that he was beaten about the head with fists and a "small sledge hammer" by several men in a car after Deputy Sheriff J. D. Pearce of Earle had given him 15 minutes to leave town.

As Miss Blagden, sister of George Blagden, Memphis lawyer, and a former winner of the 15-mile Toronto, Can., swimming marathon, and daughter of J. D. Blagden, Assistant U. S. meteorologist at the Memphis weather bureau for many years until his retirement several years ago, displayed severe bruises here, Williams told his story of the attack to Little Rock newsmen.

A Memphis doctor who examined Miss Blagden, a young social worker and writer, reported she had two severe bruises, five inches wide, across her back.

Canned Milk Exempt

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The attorney general's office ruled that canned milk was exempt from the two per cent sales tax. The opinion went to Revenue Commissioner Wiseman.

The opinion cited the recent supreme court decision which held whole milk exempt.

From problems of Clark's day, 150 years ago, the president, in his dedicatory address, drew lessons pointing the need of "arming ourselves with new weapons against new devices of crime and cupidity," and of conserving America's natural resources.

2 Fliers Killed in Plane Crash

Ship Plunges 100 Feet After Take Off and Then Burns

NORFOLK, Va.—(AP)—Lieutenant Charles Mallory of Bethesda, Md., and Radioman W. C. Gray of Wharton, Texas, were burned to death Wednesday when their plane crashed 100 feet shortly after taking off at the naval air station here.

Five Hurt in Explosion

HAVANA.—(AP)—Five postal employees were injured Wednesday when a bomb exploded inside the postoffice here.

Two persons were injured seriously. The bomb was wrapped in a parcel post package.

3 Bodies Found in Wrecked Boat

Might Be White Men Who Were Searching for Buried Gold

NASSAU.—(AP)—Reports Wednesday from the Inagua Island in the eastern Bahamas told of the finding of the bodies of three white men beside a small vessel wrecked on a reef.

The meager description of the craft indicated that it might be the English boat Girlpat, reported stolen from Grimsby, England, about six weeks ago by a party of men who came to these islands in it to look for buried gold.

McFadden Attending Rotary Convention

Following the five-day session they will attend the Rotary International convention in Atlantic City, N. J.

Musical Program at Bodcaw High School

W. H. Munn of Bodcaw, announced Wednesday that a musical program would be held at 8 p. m. Friday, June 19, in the Bodcaw High School auditorium.

Proceeds will go to the church building fund. The public is invited to attend. The admission will be small.

Game Warden's Report

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The state game and fish commission reported its game wardens arrested 100 men during May on charges of violating the state fishing, hunting and trapping laws.

Eighty-four were convicted with fines totaling $980 assessed against violators, the report said. Game released or confiscated included 24 bass, two squirrel, two fox, nine opossum and 116 other game fish.

Road Leads From Garland City to Near El Dorado

Work to Start Not Later Than July 18, Baker Announces

PROJECTS ASKED

Delegation Seeks Pavement From El Dorado to Lake Village

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—J. C. Baker, director of highways, Wednesday told a South Arkansas delegation that paving of U. S. Highway 82 from Garland City to a point 18 miles west of El Dorado, would start not later than July 18.

Baker said that bituminous surfacing would be laid and that maintenance funds of the highway department would be used for the work.

Petition Presented

The South Arkansas delegation representing the Highway 82 project presented a petition to Baker bearing 5,000 signatures.

Judge Y. W. Ethridge of Hamburg, and Robert T. Hall, secretary of the El Dorado chamber of commerce, were the group's spokesmen.

The delegation also asked that Highway 82 be paved from El Dorado to Lake Village as soon as the new federal allotment was received.

Other Projects

Highway Commissioner C. H. Murphy presented a motion that consideration would be given the project. Murphy also said that means of paving a highway across the southern part of the state from Mississippi to Texas would be worked out as soon as possible.

Mr. Hall of the El Dorado chamber of commerce, declared that completion of Highway 82, paving would provide a paved road from New York City of California 250 miles shorter than any other road.

He said that the distance from El Dorado to Lake Village was 93 miles. The State Highway Commission voted to give early consideration on another South Arkansas highway project calling for paving of U. S. Highway No. 167 from Calton bridge to a point six miles south of Sheridan.

Goodyear Agency Secured for Hope

Automotive Supply Company Gets Franchise on Supertwist Cords

The Goodyear tire franchise has been acquired for the Hope territory by F. H. Jones, proprietor of the Automotive Supply company, 112 South Main street, adjoining Haynes Department store. Mr. Jones announced Wednesday.

Automotive Supply now has a complete stock of Goodyear tires and tubes. Mr. Jones said:

"Many drivers are impressed with the appearance of lots of rubber in a tire. Rubber, however, is not the only important part of a tire, whether it be for passenger car use or for trucks. The correct construction is also of utmost importance."

"Here are a few everyday examples of the punishment the cords in a truck tire must take every minute they are in use. Bend a hairpin back and forth rapidly. Feel how hot the bend gets under the flexing. Flexing is many times as rapid in the body of a truck tire, hour after hour. Terrible heat is generated."

"Every cord in the tires of an ordinary two-ton truck gets 30 to 35 miles an hour must stand five pile-driver road blows to the second. Increased loads add tons to the blows."

"Like a coiled spring under shock, the cords in a truck tire must compress and expand—millions of times—if the truck owner is to get his money's worth of tire service."

"With its patented Supertwist Cord—especially woven so that it stretches and comes back, long after ordinary cords are worn out—Goodyear has solved this problem. Supertwist meets all of the exacting demands placed on it, and is one of the big reasons why Goodyear truck and passenger car tires deliver maximum mileage," he continued.

Lumber Crushes Arkansas Youth

Five-Year-Old Pine Bluff Child Killed When Lumber Falls

PINE BLUFF, Ark.—(AP)—J. E. Goff, Jr., five, was crushed to death Tuesday when a stack of lumber fell on him while playing with a companion at a lumber company plant here.

Lizzie Moore, negro school teacher and wife of Jake Moore, South Walnut street, asked The Star Wednesday to "please make a distinction between her and the Lizzie Moore that appeared in police court news Tuesday."

"All my friends think that it was me that was fined on that assault charge. Why, even the police came to my house to collect the fine," she declared.

The school teacher said that she had been embarrassed and humiliated since publication of the court news Tuesday.

The Lizzie Moore that was fined in municipal court lives on West Fourth street.

Your Baby's Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

New-born babies, with good digestion and good appetite, and with the proper food, will usually sleep about nine-tenths of the time. Gradually, they require less and less sleep, so that by the age of six months, they sleep about two-thirds of the time.

From 4 to 6 years of age, a child will sleep 12 hours a day; from 7 to 10 years of age, 11 hours a day; from 11 to 14 years, 10 hours a day; and from 14 to 16 years of age, 9 hours a day.

Up to 6 years of age, a baby should also have a nap during the day, lasting from three-quarters of an hour to an hour and a half.

Children seldom sleep too much. They are usually, if well, too full of vim and vigor to sleep too long or too often. In fact, excess sleep may be a sign of a disturbance about which parents should consult the doctor.

Children between 2 and 10 years of age are likely to be intensively active during every wakeful moment.

Some children require more sleep than do others, and consequently like to sleep late in the morning. If the sleeping children stay up late, they should not be accused of being lazy when they oversleep in the morning.

If a child lies in bed, awake, for a few minutes after being aroused in the morning, it may be lazy; but if it immediately falls asleep again and sleeps soundly, it may be trying to get the sleep it actually needs.

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

Prickly heat days are here again. So it's time to get out the over-worked baking soda, that panacea of Grand-ma's for everything from dog bites to heartburn, and get busy.

The best way to cure this pest of babyhood is, of course, to prevent it. So, to digress for a moment, we'll take that over.

First of all, on a hot day, Sunk-kums needs nothing on but his birthday clothes and a diaper. In bed he needs no pillow because it will paralyze his head and shoulders, most likely. He must have his undershirt stretched tight over the mattress and it should be dry, at least when he's laid down.

Bottle Baby Often
Scalding, or erupted skin around the buttocks, is sheer agony. So instead of one misery to endure he generally has two.

Prickly heat comes on the nape of the neck, scalp, shoulders and back and sometimes on the arms. It can't not always be seen because it isn't red necessarily. And fine rash sometimes looks like a solid red splotch, on the other hand. It depends on the skin texture.

Bathe baby several times a day, in impossible weather—that is, if he isn't weakly or sick. Water won't hurt him, and makes him feel good. Just long enough to get the fluid over him and out again, or even by the "sponge" method. Don't put him in his tub to play for any length of time. This is enervating. The big thing is to remove acid perspiration which causes skin annoyances.

Add the soda if he seems to be itchy and fretful, about a tablespoonful to a quart of water. Keep a solution on hand in a jug and apply it to the affected parts once in a while.

The near-year-old child usually likes a cooler sponge after his bath. Not cold enough to shock him, but cool to your hand.

Oil May Be Advised
Powder lightly in creases, but powder alone won't overcome any acid deposits either on back or buttocks. Wash him off with water and a very soft cloth at each change of diapers. Put him dry and shake a little powder in the folds. Or use, as many good mothers do, one of the healing oils.

Oil is often advised in caring for very young babies, or any baby with very tender skin. There are some cases indeed where the doctor will advise "oil cleansing" instead of water at "changing time." Bath as usual.

Try to keep him cool. Don't turn the electric fan on him, but a fan may be in the room as a rule, if it is placed high and turned away. It keeps air moving. Keep his bed away from hot outside walls. Outdoors, be sure he's in the shade. If the doctor wants him to have direct sun-rays for a minimum of time before eleven or after three, he will tell you the time limit. Otherwise he needs cool places on a blistering day.

Watch change of weather. Don't leave him stripped if a change of wind begins to blow or the mercury falls. At night watch for changes in weather. Judgment is the best preventive of both prickly heat and colds in the head.

But bound in with the story is a moving illustration of one of the oldest of texts: that the man who saves his life loses it, while he who loses his life does so, in some miraculous and unaccountable manner, save it forever.

That is not to say that this is a book of cloudy mysticism. On the contrary, it is very much the opposite. But our imperfect and selfish race does produce men who will die gladly for the sake of utter strangers.

"Days of Wrath" describes one, and shows why his sacrifice was worthwhile.

Before matches came into use, borrowing fire was a regular chore, and when neighbors were distant it was necessary to be speedy.

Eleven and one-half inches of rain fell in one hour and 20 minutes in San Diego county, California, on August 12, 1891.

The full moon never goes below the horizon during the sunless winter months in the Polar regions.

Bird life in the United States has been decreased 75 per cent in the last 60 years.

The story itself is brief. The young radical is arrested, beaten unmercifully, locked up to await death, and then unexpectedly released. He flees to safety in Czechoslovakia, carries there only to catch his breath, and then heads back into Germany, knowing

CHAPTER XXV
"HELLO," Natalie said briskly, drawing out a chair at the table at which Gail was sitting. "Having an early breakfast for a lady of leisure, aren't you? What's the idea?"

"I'm going to look at some apartments," Gail told her. "One of the real estate men I met yesterday told me I'd better decide on one soon, even though I don't want possession until September."

A uniformed messenger entered the dining room and approached the head waiter.

"Look!" said Natalie. "There's a telegram for someone—why, he's coming over here—"

The messenger was beside them. "Miss Everett?" he asked, as he reached the table.

"This is Miss Everett," Natalie told him. As Gail took the envelope, opened it and unfolded the sheet inside, she went on, "Is it another fortune for you, Gail?"

THE other girl read the telegram swiftly. "Well," she announced. "I don't have to fly to Arizona. A codicil to my grandfather's will has been found by some lawyer and Uncle Mark is now the owner of the Rancho Angelo. So that's that!"

"Why, Gail—what a shame! Can't you do something about it? Put in a claim? Maybe there's something crooked—"

"No, I guess it's all right," Gail handed the telegram to her friend. "It may as well call Rosemary."

She went on, "I'll tell her our flight was a job. And I'll have to look for a job, too. It was sweet of Uncle Mark to send me such a handsome check for my expenses on the trip, but I guess I may need the money for living expenses until I start earning something again. I don't believe it's too early to call Rosemary right now—"

Gail rose and went to one of the telephone booths at the far end of the dining room.

"Well, what did Rosemary say?" Natalie asked when Gail had returned.

"She thinks I should take the trip anyway and get acquainted with my uncle, but of course I wouldn't do that."

"Did you speak to Dick, too?" "No, he's on his way in town already."

"Oh—going to take you around?" Natalie seemed interested.

"No, but Rosemary said he'd probably call me and might take me to lunch."

For a few minutes they glanced at their newspapers. Suddenly Natalie cried, "Listen to this, Gail! Among the passengers sailing on the Santa Lucia for Buenos Aires are Don Luis V. Doro and his lovely bride, the former Lucille Travers."

"Lucille married? But who is the man?" asked Gail.

"I never heard of him before," Natalie said, idly turning the pages of the newspaper, "but I'll bet he has money. Lots of South Americans are very wealthy. Well, I suppose we won't hear any more about her until she decides to divorce him."

THE lunch hour crowd had already begun to gather when Gail met Dick Scorties in the lobby of a fashionable hotel.

"Well," he greeted her enthusiastically, "I've got everything arranged for the trip!"

"But, Dick, it's all off! I called Rosemary this morning and told her. They've discovered a codicil to my grandfather's will that changes everything. The ranch doesn't belong to me at all. It's my uncle's."

"What!" Dick exclaimed, amazed. "But say—why give up the trip anyway? Don't you want to go out and get acquainted with your uncle? After all, he's your only relative and some of these days the ranch will be yours anyway."

"No, Dick. I've got to get to work again and the sooner I do, the better."

Dick shook his head. "Well, you're going to play this afternoon, anyhow. I'm taking you for a sea voyage as soon as we finish lunch."

"Where?" asked Gail eagerly. "Wait until you see."

It was not until they had reached South Ferry and entered the terminal that Gail realized they were going on the Staten Island ferry.

"How do you like this?" Dick asked as they left the shore.

"I think it's grand." She glanced at the different boats in the harbor. "I feel as though I were starting on a trip across the Atlantic."

"Well, darling, I'm sailing to England in 10 days. Why don't you come with me?"

"I'd love the trip," Gail whispered, while Dick tightened his hold on her arm.

Then marry me, Gail, and make everyone happy."

"Fatal words!" Oh, Dick dear, I can't!" Gail released herself and walked slowly along the deck.

GAIL felt restless when she reached home. Her answer to Dick had been final this time.

Suddenly she picked up her handbag and a sketch pad. She'd go to the library and make some sketches.

The fine arts room was not crowded and she found the books she wanted and a little table with no one seated at it in a secluded corner of the room.

Gail started to make some drawings. How quiet it was! Surely the attendants tip-toed on rubber soles like the rubber-tired trucks they wheeled about. Quickly she made sketch after sketch, her eyes intent on the book before her. Suddenly she raised them. A young man was sitting opposite her. Her eyes looked straight into Derek's! For a tense moment each appraised the other. Then Gail whispered, "Derek!"

He leaned across the table and imprisoned both her hands in his. "Do you still love me, Gail?" he asked. "What a fool I've been! What can you think of me?"

"I missed your letters."

"But you were going to marry Dick Scorties. Lucille showed me a paragraph in a newspaper column . . . I was sure it must be you."

"Why didn't you ask me? How could you think that after I'd given you my promise?"

"Darling, forgive me! I loved you so I wanted you to have your happiness even if it broke my heart."

Tears glistened on Gail's sunny eyelashes.

"Let's go, dearest!"

Once more, as Gail walked along the avenue with Derek, her heart was singing happily. All the doubts that had tortured her were swept away. She told him gaily of the end of her career at Madame Lizette's, of the fortune that had come to her and vanished like a fantastic dream. And then he spoke of Lucille.

Cubs Win 12 in Row, Beat Phillies, 4-1

Larry French Allows 10 Hits But Is Master in Pinches

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs added timely hitting to steady pitching Tuesday to win their twelfth consecutive victory by subduing the Phillies, 4 to 1.

Larry French, completing his thirteenth successive game, was the complete master of the Phillies in the pinches, and his mates held a two-run uprising in the fifth to break a 1-1 tie and zoom the Cubs into a lead never relinquished.

A single by Hack and a pass to Herman started the decisive rally. O'Dea's hit sent Hack over the plate, and Cavaretta, with two out and the bases loaded, laid down an infield hit to score Herman.

The Phillies reached French for ten hits, but were unable to bunch them after the first inning. The southpaw fanned four and yielded but one base on balls.

Cotton Values Again Advance

Climbs 50 Cents Per Bale on New Orleans Market Tuesday

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Cotton values added another 50 cents a bale in active trading on the market here Tuesday.

The apparently unquenchable belief that the intrinsic worth of the staple is above current levels continued to prevail as buying both by trade and speculative interests dominated the market.

A bone dry weather may, showing precipitation at only one point in the entire belt, private crop reports distinctly bullish and the increased movement of cotton goods, all aided the upturn.

For a time during the early dealings it appeared that the last month's upturn had been checked. Poor cables and an apathy on the part of the trade during the first hour or so kept the market close to Monday's final prices.

But after the posting of the weather map a gradual point-to-point advance began and prices were on the upgrade at the close of dealings. October finished at 11.24, December and January at 11.22 and March at 11.21. The spot average jumped up 4 points to 11.82 on light sales.

Kimberling Confirmed by New Jersey Senate

TRENTON, N. J., (AP)—The state senate confirmed the appointment of Colonel Mark O. Kimberling as state police superintendent to succeed Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, leading investigator in the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

Colonel Kimberling, principal keeper of the state prison and the official in charge of the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the Lindbergh kidnapping-murder, was appointed by Governor Harold G. Hoffman two weeks ago.

Colonel Schwarzkopf left the office a week ago at the expiration of his third five-year term. The state police investigation of the Lindbergh case under his direction drew sharp criticism from Governor Hoffman, who conducted an independent inquiry prior to the execution of Hauptmann.

Heavyweight Bout Thursday Night

Max Schmeling and Joe Louis Scheduled for 15 Rounds

NEW YORK—(AP)—As Max Schmeling and Joe Louis wound up training Tuesday for their 15-round heavyweight fight in the Yankee Stadium Thursday night, there were these important developments on the main New York front:

The New York state athletic commission called a special meeting Wednesday to discuss the demands of the Schmeling camp that the hands of both fighters be bandaged in the ring instead of in the dressing rooms.

Julian Black, one of Louis' managers, said he would fight the suggestion to the limit.

"I'll abide by any rules the commission lays down," said Black, "but I certainly am not going to keep Joe sitting in the ring for 45 minutes while his hands are taped if I can help it."

Although the clear warm weather brought a boom in ticket sales, it became increasingly apparent that gate would not hit the million dollar mark.

The $40 top seats are moving briskly enough, but there are big gaps in the $27.50, $16.50 and $11.50 sections.

Lumber Dealer Dies After 2-Year Illness

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—A two-year illness ended in death Tuesday for H. F. Rieff, veteran Little Rock retailer and president of the Arkansas Lumber Dealers Association.

A native of Logan county, Mr. Rieff had been engaged in the lumber business here for 40 years. He was 63 years old.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement does not mean the case is taken care of. Old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and "wake you feel" it up. Discuss Release of Rep. Zioncheck

Doctors Expect Disposition of Zioncheck's Case Wednesday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Marion Zioncheck of Washington state Tuesday was ordered to remain another night in the psychopathic ward of Gallinger hospital.

Dr. Edgar A. Bocock told reporters he expected disposition of the case Wednesday.

After Mrs. Zioncheck had called on the District of Columbia alienist, Dr. Joseph Gilbert Gallinger, Bocock said "several possible methods of disposition" were being considered. Among them, he said, was the representative's release.

One hospital source said the congressman would not be released, however, until "other arrangements have been made for his care."

Grudge Fight Is Still Unsettled

Stafford Fails to Show Up at Arena Here Tuesday Night

Settlement of that five-year-old grudge between Berlin Quillen and Herbert Stafford failed to materialize Tuesday night at the South Walnut street arena—much to the disappointment of approximately 350 spectators that jammed the stadium to near capacity.

The two were scheduled for six rounds of boxing. Quillen was on hand several minutes before the show opened. Stafford was not to be found. After a five-minute delay in starting time, Promoter Bert Mauldin announced to the crowd that Stafford had not shown up.

Mauldin said Wednesday that he had not seen Stafford, but was going to look him up.

"Stafford came to me several days ago and said that he wanted to fight. He was the one that challenged Quillen. I arranged the bout for them, which was to be fought with an official referee and according to rules of boxing.

"I was very much disappointed because of Stafford's failure to appear. It was no stunt to attract a crowd. If the two want to settle their difficulties in the ring I will give them another chance.

"The next time the show must go on as scheduled," Mauldin concluded.

In the 45-minute wrestling semifinal, Lefty Williams won over Speedy Schaffer. Williams straddled Schaffer to take the first fall. Schaffer came back to win the second. In the last round Williams resorted to eye gouging before winning from the East St. Louis grappler. The bout was good.

Frankenstein Wolf won over George Ligovsky, the bearded Russian, when the latter was disqualified by W. C. Page, referee.

Ligovsky ranted and raved over the decision, but to no avail.

Promoter Mauldin said that the two would be signed for the main event next week, winter take all, no referee, and no holds barred.

Mauldin said that he would ask the chairman of the state wrestling commission to stage such a "bait and felt" that he would be given permission to do so.

Five-State Crime Blockade Is Proposed By Texas State Police

AUSTIN, Texas.—(AP)—A five-state crime blockade—founded on the Clyde Barrow manhunt of several years ago—projected by Texas state police.

New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas will be asked to join in the plan, said L. G. Phares, chief of the Texas highway patrol.

Organization of the blockade would throw a double barrier of manhunters—local officers, state police and motorized Texas Rangers—along any border section within a few minutes. Rapid communications will permit concentration of officers in any "danger zone," said Phares.

World Arrange Signals
 A system of pre-arranged positions for various police units of the states will be worked out. Flashing of an emergency signal will send officers to assigned posts there to await further instructions.

Rapid transmission of coded messages by radio, telephone and telegraph will facilitate movement of officers over the territory. Motorcycles and fast motor cars will speed the men to the "danger zones."

State officials said a legislative program is being worked out to remove legal barriers in event a fugitive escapes across a state line. Identical legislation on extradition would virtually let down state lines in event of a widespread manhunt, they said.

Borrow Chase Cited
 The plan, similar to one suggested last winter at a crime conference in Tulsa, Okla., grew out of difficulties encountered in the manhunt for the outlaw—Clyde Barrow and his woman companion, Bonnie Parker. Phares said that pitfalls in highway blockading, encountered then, led to the present plan. He cited recent mobilization of Texas state police along the Texas-Oklahoma border after an Oklahoma prison break, as a small scale example of how the blockade would be used. In that instance officers of the two states concentrated along the state line on a few hours' notice, maintaining a constant patrol against possibility of the fugitives escaping into Texas.

Joe E. Brown at Saenger Thursday

Comedy Romance Deals With Doughboy Life in France

"Sons O' Guns," Joe E. Brown's latest comedy frolic, based on the hilarious Broadway musical hit opens at the Saenger Theater Thursday.

Besides the mirth stirring antics of the wide mouthed comedian, the picture is spiced with the famous martial airs of the original stage play, with tuneful new songs by Harry Warren and Al Dubin, sung by Joe E. Brown, Blondell, Winifred Shaw, and the Chambers Male Chorus, and riotous dance numbers, all staged by the famous musical comedy producer, Bobby Connolly.

The story is a rollicking comedy romance dealing with the humorous side of doughboy life in France during the World War. The picture is said to be most colorful and picturesque, and lavish in production values, staged with more elaborateness than any previous Joe E. Brown comedy.

Petty, Knoxville Manager Is Fired

Had Good Club at First But Everything Went Haywire, He Says

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—R. G. Allen, president of the Knoxville club of the Southern Association has announced the outright release of Jess Petty, manager of the Smokies and veteran southpaw pitcher.

Petty formerly pitched for the Brooklyn Dodgers, Pittsburgh Pirates, Indianapolis and Minneapolis. He went from Minneapolis of the American Association to Chattanooga where he pitched last year.

Under Petty's leadership the Knoxville Smokies this year have won 19 games and lost 43. Petty was the sixth manager of the Smokies since the franchise was moved here in 1931.

Neil Caldwell, first baseman, was placed in temporary charge of the club.

Petty Gives His Side
 "John McGraw, himself, couldn't have won with that club," Petty said, asserting he failed "to get the proper co-operation from the management."

"We had a fairly good club at the beginning of the season," Petty added. "But everything went haywire. The pitchers were not in shape. Two pitchers who trained in Florida failed to come through and were released."

"I told Colonel Allen (club president) that if he insisted on training here in the spring, his club would always be in the cellar."

The former manager said he believed the Smokies would be up in the Southern Association race with "a new shortstop, third baseman and one more winning pitcher."

Petty said he hoped to get a pitching job with another Southern Association club.

Temporary Manager Caldwell said the Smokies had been "handled badly" but that with a few changes in the line-up he hoped to get the club "out of a rut and winning some games."

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

With MAJOR HOOPLE

HE MUST HAVE BEEN IN THE BREAD LINE BRIGADE ON HIS TRIP, THE OLD VEST DIDN'T TAKE ON ANY NEW SOLD SPOTS!

YEAH, AND HIS RIGHT THUMB LOOKS A LITTLE WEATHER BEATEN—PROBABLY RODE THE NIGHT MARE PARKED BETWEEN THE END POCKETS!

BAH! INDEED! YOU KNAVES MIGHT ASCERTAIN THE TRUE FACTS BY WRITING MY HOTEL TO INQUIRE IF THAT HOSTELRY WAS GRACED BY THE PERSONAGE OF MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE, DURING THE CONVENTION!

SHUSH—MAJOR THEY MIGHT TAKE YOU UP ON THAT—

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

IT TAKES MOREN A BIG HEART TO GET BY IN THIS LIL' OL' WORLD

LISTEN, OPAL—I'LL LET YA IN ON A SNICKER! I MET FERD DRIVIN' ON 'N WAY OVER 'NHE WOULDN'T PLAY DEAD—SO I SUGGESTED THAT WE RACE OUT TO NINE MILE HILL AN' TH' ONE WHO GOT BACK FIRSTEST WOULD DATE BOOTS THIS P.M.!

ALLEY OOP

DANGLED IF HE DIDN'T RUN THAT REPTILE BACK INTO TH' SEA!

SAY—WE CAN'T RUN OFF AN' DESERT THAT FELLA—S'NO TELLIN' WHAT'D HAPPEN TO 'IM!

Y'MEAN THERE'S NO TELLIN' WHAT KING WU'D DO TO US—C'MON, LET'S GIT BACK ON TH' JOB

LOOK—WELL HAFTA HURRY—HE'S HEADIN' OFF INTO TH' JUNGLE!

OW—TH' BIG FOOL! HE'LL GIT HIMSELF KILLED IN THERE!

WASH TUBBS

GEE WIZ! I GUESS HANDLIN' INTERGLYCERIN IS AWFULLY DANGEROUS ISN'T IT?

SURE IF YOU AIN'T CAREFUL, TAKE JEB LEWIS' PRINCESTAGE, HE GOT SOAKIN' THE BACK OF HIS CLASP KNIFE—SNAPPED THE BLADE SHUT AND BINGO! OFF WENT HIS HAND.

SOMETIMES A GLYCERIN TRUCK GETS WRECKED, AN' NOTHIN' HAPPENS, AGAIN THE STUFF'LL BLOW, YOU CAN'T FIGGER IT.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

WELL, IF THAT DOESN'T HELP US LOCATE POODLES, NOTHING WILL! I SPENT EVERY NICKEL I HAD FOR THAT AD!

LOST: LARGE DOG WITH ONE BLACK EYE. ANSWERS TO NAME OF POODLES. PLEASE PHONE FRECKLES McGOOSEY, DUNKEL 376.

MYRA NORTH, SPECIAL NURSE

As MYRA IS CONFRONTED BY MERLE, SHE SEES THE TENT FLAP MOVE IN THE EXCITEMENT, SHE DROPS THE CANDLE

NOW THEN—THOSE PLANS—IF YOU PLEASE

BUT I—YOU SEE—LOOK OUT!

BUT HAKKIM, WHO HAS BEEN TOLD TO WATCH MYRA, HAS SNEAKED UP BEHIND THE ENGLISH GIRL—AND—

OUT OUR WAY

HA—HA—SEE HIM KISS—SEE HIM HUG HER—HAH HAH!

HA—HA—MUSHY MUSH

OOGLY, GOOGLY

HOW DID I KNOW THOSE KIDS WERE HIDING UP IN THE RAFTER?

YOU SHOULD HAVE! YOU TOLD ME YOU USED TO WATCH THE SPOONERS IN THAT VERY COVERED BRIDGE! YOU SHOULD HAVE KNOWN BETTER—NOW THE WHOLE TOWN WILL KNOW—I'LL NEVER BE ABLE TO HOLD MY HEAD UP AGAIN!

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON.

By MARTIN

HE DOESN'T KNOW IT, BUT THERE'S A DOZEN DETOURS ON 'AT ROAD! BUT, I TOOK A SHORT CUT—HEH! HEH! HE WON'T BE BACK FER FIVE HOURS, I'LL BET

NOPE! AH RECKON NOT! HE JES' PHONED NISAD T' TELL YO DAT Y'D WON N'DAT HE WAS LOST—AN' NO TELLIN' WHEN HE'D BE BACK

SWELL! NOW—TELL BOOTS I'M ON DECK, WILL YA?

AH CAINT! MR. FERD DROPPED BY AN' PICKED 'ER UP B'FORE HE LEFT

By HAMLIN

HERE'S WHERE HE PLUNGED INTO TH' BRUSH!

WE'VE GOT TO HEAD HIM OFF

OOO! WOTTA PLACE! I WISH WE WUZ OUTA HERE!

ARE Y'SURE THIS IS TH' WAY HE WENT? YEH, HERE'S HIS TRACKS

By CRANE

YOU KNOW SHORTY MALLISTER WHO WAS BLOWN UP?

KNOW HIM? WHY LISTEN, HE WAS DOING ME A FAVOR WHEN IT HAPPENED MY DAD GOT KILLED LAST WEEK AND IT MADE ME SO NERVOUS—WELL SHORTY OFFERED TO TAKE OVER MY RUN, TEN MINUTES LATER—BLOOMIE!

BOY! 'AT WAS A CLOSE CALL FOR YOU! BY THE WAY, I DIDN'T GET YOUR NAME, DID YOUR DAD LIVE HERE?

SURE, HE WAS JEFF PICKET—GOT KILLED IN A HOLD UP.

By BLOSSER

YOU SAY YOUR DOG IS LOST, EH? BIG DOG WITH A BLACK EYE AND BIG FEET? WELL, TELL ME—IS THERE A REWARD FOR HIM?

WELL... ER... I'M AFRAID NOT!

THEN HE'S STILL LOST!!

By THOMPSON & COLL

NO—NO, HAKKIM—YOU MUSTN'T HARM HER—SHE'S

YOU HAVE YOUR ORDERS—THE PLANS!!

BUT AS MYRA LEAVES SIR EDMOND'S TENT...

HELLO, THERE! RATHER IN A HURRY, AREN'T YOU? HAS MERLE SHOWN YOU THRU THE TOMB?

A—NOT YET—BUT I'D LOVE TO SEE IT—SOME TIME—
